The Virtues Project

For the Work Place

The Virtues Project is an international initiative focused on building peaceful and caring communities aligned to 52 virtues – such as “compassion,” “integrity,” “respect.” The Virtues Project promotes community capacity-building to teach positive behaviors and attitudes and contribute to healthy and supportive environments across sectors. This is an initiative originated with a work group of Early Childhood Advisory Committee of the Children and Families Council and is moving forward with support from the Community Foundation of the Virgin Islands. We are working in collaboration with the Department of Education to infuse VI culture into the messages and to implement The Virtues Project in the public schools. The Department of Human Services will be disseminating the “virtue of the week” to Head Start and child care centers with suggested developmentally appropriate activities. The goal is to engage the community in discussion and awareness of the “Virtue of the Week” in schools, child care settings, home, and the workplace through the media, religious institutions, schools and centers, government agencies, and business organizations.

What you can do

We are hoping to partner with you to help get the message out about the “Virtue of the Week” at your workplace. We are hoping you will email it to your staff, put it in newsletters, post it on bulletin boards, and cite examples at your workplace of moments when the virtues are practiced by your staff.

We will send you the “Virtue of the Week” with a full description on Tuesday to ensure you have time to publicize it. Please let us know who on your staff would be the most appropriate person (with email address or fax number) to receive the “Virtue of the Week” to ensure that the message will go out. Week beginning January 15/16: Justice

Practicing justice is being fair. It is solving problems so everyone wins. You don't prejudge. You see people as individuals. You don't accept it when someone acts like a bully, cheats or lies. Being a champion for justice takes courage. Sometimes when you stand for justice, you stand alone.

You are practicing justice when you...

- Treat everyone fairly
- Think for yourself and refuse to prejudge
- Avoid gossip and backbiting
- Own your mistakes and fix them
- Protect people's rights, including your own
- Solve problems so everyone wins

Affirmation:

I act with justice. I stand up for the rights of others and myself. I have no need to pretend or defend. I choose to make amends.
